The news of the victory of Admiral Togo in the battle of the Sea of Japan is said to have influenced the decision to put range finders in place of the one-pounders which have occupied the tops. The fate of the battle was decided by the superiority of the work of the Japanese gunners, while the ships were still at long range.

The Navy Department is informed that the aim of the Japanese gunners was due to the efficiency of the men with the range finders whom Admiral Togo had placed in the fighting tops, and they were thus able to "pick up" the Russian ships at a far greater distance than the Russians could locate the Japanese.

st Agricultural Park, was shot three times in the breast yesterday noon by a crippled lunch-wagon proprietor, W. A. Hall, whose cart stands just outside the park gate.

They had a row over a bill of 24 sewing by Purceil for meals. Purceil finally threw a bucket of water over Hall, who puffled a revolver, and fired phoint-blank into Purceil's breast. Purceil rushed at him and knocked him down with the bucket. As he lay on the ground, Hall shot three times more; one shot entered Purceils' arm, the other two his breast.

Hall admitted the shooting while on the way to the station, but claimed that Purceil had threatened to hit him with the bucket.

The electric ambulance being held by a row in the City Hall, the old patrol wagon was nearly an hour getting Purceil to the Receiving Hospital. He will probably recover from his wounds.

The Constable was an easy mark for the toughs, who threw him down and robbed him of his revolver. Then the precious pair departed and secreted the weapon in a near-by saloon, where Patrolmen Carr and Reynolds placed them under arrest on a charge of disturbing the peace.

The tired air with which he passed certified checks to the highbinders who served him he took away all suspicion.

The young man's nerve was delicious. When he was arrested Tuesday night he was trying to pass one of his checks on the National Bank at San Pedro. It has been discovered that he had a rubber stamp, specially made, to manufacture his bogus paper. He could not turn out checks fast enough with a pen and ink, to keep up with the shirst of his friends.

His arrest has cast suspicion on everyone who tries to pay a restaurant bill with a check.

Testerday a young tourist, heavily interested in a rich father, had dinner in one of the downtown cares, and, calling for a pen and ink, drew out his check book when the waiter are him his bill. A permanent art gallery for Los Angeles is to built by the women of the Southwest. That was decided at the meeting of representatives of all the prominent women's clubs in the city with the Ruskin Art Club, yesterday morning.

It is to be erected under the lead-ership of the club women. Mrs. J. H. Hendrick has been selected as tem-ership of the club women. Ars. J., H. Hendrick has been selected as temporary chairman, and Mrs. W. S.

Taylor, temporary secretary, the presidents of five leading clubs being appointed a committee to draw up a constitution and bylaws for a permanent organization. These five clubs aré: The Friday Morning, the Ebell, the Ruskin Art, the Wednesday Morning, and the Pasadena Shakespeare Club.
Great interest was displayed at the meeting yesterday. Mrs. Henry Wilson Hart, who has been so generous with her donations toward the gallery, arose yesterday and said: "Ladies I have some very good news for you, and I wish to tell it to you before you leave this morning. One of your members, a young and wealthy woman desires me to state that when the site is selected, she will give $500 toward she building." A great clapping of hands followed this.

Mrs. Jefferson Gibbs arose, "Ladies," said Mrs. Gibbs. "a very modest member of your club, Miss Fette, will give $100 toward the building"—again a clapping of hands.

Mrs. Hart added a postscript to her of your club, Miss Fette, will give $100 toward the building"—again a clapping of hands.

Mrs. Hart added a postscript to her story. "This same lady will also give an art window for the new gallery, as beautiful as sie can procure."

"Who is it? Who is it?" but Mrs. Hart said the lady would not give her name. She is young, she is wealthy, and she is prominent in another club and she will not give her name, which is all unsatisfactory at besi.

It is due to the influence of Mrs. Hart that this generous unknows patron has become interested in the Ruskin's undertaking, and it is undertaking, and it is undertaking, when they will select the art window that is to be a part of the permanent gallery. It is to be purchased in Munich, and will represent a much larger outlay than the contribution of the $500. Mrs. Hart says the window is to be in a certain sense a memorial window for a member of the donor's family, who prospered wonderfully in Los Angeles and who believed in its future as a great city. A resolution was passed by the women, voting to work in cobperation with the Southwest Society of the Archeological Institute of America, and to arrange for a section of the museum, which that society intends to build, that section to constitute the permanent art gallery. Another meeting of this body will be held at the Ruskin Art rooms next Wednesday morning.

Boy Thieves.

A wild chase after thieves, which ended among the scenery of the Grand Operahouse, occurred yesterday, with Police Sergeant Murray and Officer Wilhard Smith as the pursuers. The thieves were, four boys, J. Rosen, N. Woodson, O. Hensler and J. Rain. They were seen stealing a new demijohn from the back yard of the Germain Company on Los Angeles street, and the police were notified. They started to run and led the officers a long chase were fences, through back yards and through devious alleys, finally taking refuge under the stage of the Grand Operahouse. They were booked at the Police Station for petty larceny. Duath Hovers Near.

Death Hovers Near.

Owing to the child's weakened condition Surgeon Quint was unable to complete the operation of wiring the pelvis yesterday. At a late hour last night the boy's condition was considered very precarious. Mrs. Pitzer's wounds were dressed again yeaterday morning and her condition was reported to be more favorable. Unless unexpected complications arise it is expected that she will receiver, though she will probably never regain the complete use of her injured agembers.

Wounded Children Still Live.

Up to late yesterday afternoon great hopes were entertained by the attending physicians that both Raymond Coin and Mabel Cooper would recover from the effects of the gunshot wound which was accidently inflicted by little Claudine Coin Monday afternoon, but a change for the worse occurred in the bey's condition and the litle fellow may die at any moment. Last night Dr. Quint reported that Raymond's temperature was between 165 and 166 deg. for a short time and that the range continuid high. He was delirious several hours and his condition last night was critical. Little Mabel Cooper, on the eater hand, is improving more rapidly than the physicians anticipated, and hopes of her recovery are now entertained. Wounded Children Still Live.

day Times has become so great that it is found necessary to ask patrons to get their Sunday advertisements in earlier; especially Sunday real estate earlier; especially Sunday real estate announcements, which in order to be printed must be in the office not later than 20 o'clock Saturday rights. The printing of all real estate matter, including advertisements, in a part by tiself on Sundays involves somewhat slower press work, making it essential, in order to get the paper out on time, to stop receiving real estate ads at 10 o'clock Saturday rights. Dealers will confer a favor on The Times office if they will turn in Sunday copy on Fridays, when possible; or at least a part of it, and the balance early on Saturday. Sunday "Want" ads will still be received by phone and over the counter until 11 o'clock Saturday nights.

his mail has been accumulating for several days. It was there that a Times reporter found him and enjoyed a few minutes chat before he hastened away to catch a train for the north.

"This is not a visit merely a call," he said, "I don't consider I am but half an American until I have become familiar with Southern California—I might say, only one-fourth American. Your library is the most active of its size in the United States and circulates more books in this city than are circulated in any other of its size. It has a reputation which makes it stand out very large, due to the efficient librarians you have had.

"The Congressional Library? Well, one word is most significant in speaking of that, and that is the possessive pronoun, your library. You all help to maintain it and it belongs to the people. We are trying to make it a national library, but our service must be largely rendered through local institutions. The cataloging cards represent one form of this service and the lending of books another. Forest Supervisor Everett B. "No, I have never been in Los Angeles before and I regret very much that my stay is so limited now—but—really—I must catch that train," and away he sped—a lithe, active man of charming personality who has the light of a purpose in his keen, bright eyes and a presence that instantity impresses one that here is a man who really does things. And his record proves it. A comparatively young man yet in his early forties, he is the representative librarian of the United States—not because he happens to be at the head of the Library of Congress—he was great before that. President Ellot of Harvard said of him long ago "he is one of the best three librarians in this country." Since those words were spoken Mr. Putnam has climbed several more runga on the library ladder and is fairly entitled to a place at the very top. He is the youngest son of the late George P. Putnam, the well known publisher and founder of the house of G. P. Putnam's Sons, one of the oldest publishing houses in New York.

Herbert Putnam is a Harvard graduate and aiready holds degrees enough to turn the head of a less modest and well-balanced man. No less than three universities have conferred the title of L.D. upon him in the past two years—the Universities of Columbia and Ill-inois in 1903 ahd last year the University of Wisconsin. Before that, in 1898, Bowdoin College had honored him with the degree of Litt. D. Probably Mr. Putnam has been sent as a delegate to more library and literary gatherings than any man in the world. In 1897 he was delegated to the International de Bibliographie in Paris, and also represented the United States at the celebration of the five hundredth anniversary' of the birth of Johann Gutenberg at Mainz the same year. He was a member of the Aiministrative Board of the Congress of Arts and Science of disclosures by Thomas, who at one time was Allen's clerk, and who later became forest supervisor.

There was bad blood between the twomen, and Allen, when he was dropped from the government service, is said to have boasted that he would have the scalp of Thomas.

It is declared now that Allen has succeeded in producing the charges upon which Thomas was suspended.

Friends of Thomas declare, however, that he has an unsullied record in the discharge of his duties: that he will be able to demonstrate his fitness for his position to the satisfaction of the authorities at Washington, and that he will return shorlly to resume his place. In the presentation of his case at Washington it is not probable that Thomas will have the benefit of any political support from Congressman McLachlan of this district, and of United States Senator Flint, both of whom are said to be unfriendly to the

REMARRIED IN MURPHY HOME.

Alexander Davidson Regains His Fair Bride.

Happy Sequel to a Downfall and a Divorce.

Blue Ribbon Ties up Couple Once Estranged.

The apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Murphy have been the scene of many affecting episodes during their residence in Los Angeles, but the solemnization of the first wedding occurred there yesterday.

The circumstances were unusual, and so was the life story of the couple who were married over again.

Francis Murphy lay on his couch to which he has been confined for the past six weeks, and, although now almost recovered, his physicians would not permit him to leave it, even for so important an event as a wedding. The high-contracting parties are Alexander Davidson, and the wife who secured a divorce from him several years ago on account of his intemperance. Mrs. Davidson is an attractive and refined lady, and her husband is now a trusted employé of the Broadway Department Store.

now a trusted employé of the Broadway Department Store.

Two years ago, under the influence of Francis Murphy, Mr. Davidson signed the gospel temperance pledge and put on the blue ribbon, since which time he has lived a blameless life. Seeing this to be the case, the "Harvesters," the ladies' auxiliary of the Francis Murphy Association, set about to accomplish a reconciliation between the divided family. They found it easy sailing, for it was apparent from the start that both parties were in love with each other, and only wanted an opportunity such as offered by the adroit ladies who had undertaken the task.

adroit ladies who had undertaken the task.

It was soon all arranged that they would remarry, and Davidson, happy as a lark, set about providing a cage for his bride, while the latter continued to live in a refined home as governess until the happy day arrived.

The cottage on Fifteenth street was completed yesterday, and in anticipation of this the day for the wedding had been fixed. Inasmuch as Mr. and Mrs. Murphy had played so prominent a part in the culmination of their desires, they were not willing to have the event solemnized without the presence of their friends, but the doctor said Mr. Murphy could not leave his bad.

There was only one thing to do; the wedding must be taken to Murphy in his apartments at the Gibson.

Mrs. Murphy, the charming hostess, was assisted by Mrs. Trask and Mrs. Holmes, Mr. Murphy's two delightfully courteous daughters from New York. The rooms were chandsomely decorated with a lacework of asparagus plumohere a few days after the departure of that official for the East.

There is mystery as to the nature of the charges against Thomas. Chariton declines to discuss them. He says his tongue is tied by the rules of the department. He is performing the routine duties of the office.

The suspension of Thomas is attributed to Col. B. F. Allien, former superintendent of forest reserves in Southern California, who had troubles of his own a little over a year ago, and who, when the Forestry Bureau was transferred from the Interior to the Agricultural Department, was dropped with a dull, sickening thud.

Allien had some uncomfortable moments during the investigation of the Benson-Hyde land-fraud scandals, and it is said he was made to squirm by disclosures by Thomas, who at one time was Allen's clerk, and who later became forest supervisor.

There was had blood between the two first and the companion of the communications and remittances for conscience sake are by no means out the companion.

CHINESE MYSTERIOUSLY SAVED FROM DEPORTATION.

Poor, Friendless Old Jailbird Re-covers Precious Document That Will Set at Naught the Findings of the Courts—A Precedent in U. S.

This is the true tale of the liberation of a poor old vagrant from bondage, as by a strace from the heavens.

Leung Tune, aged Chinese vegetable peddler, a criminal by the construction of California law, an illegal inhabitant according to the statutes of the United States, half-insane, in the judgment of physicians, and aiready with limit expired upon his deportation sentence, has been rescued by secret friends in San Francisco, and will suffer no penalty of deportation, no penitentiary, no asylum.

aily of deportation, no penitentiary, no asylum.

His case will probably form a precedent in the findings of Federal judges, since his fate is already sealed, and the case must be reopened by mutual consent on both sides before any reversal can be obtained.

More peculiar, even, is the absolutely free condition in which Tune will be left after the edict of compulsory transportation has been revoked. He was already a criminal in the eyes of the law, charged with theft; but the deportation verdict invalidated any other prosecution for all time. In addition, his feeble mentality rendered him liable to prosecution upon an insanity complaint, but the sentence of removal from the country was a cloak that covered every fault of soul and body. The whole affair, which came to a surprising conclusion yesterday, sets at variance the opinions of two jurists as well.

The old man was arrested more than the bride and groom. including a brother of the former from San Francisco, assembled to witness the nuplials.

It was just 4 o'clock in the afternoon in Mind Dr. Hugh K. Walker, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian Church, performed the ring service of the Presbyterian Church, and declared Mr. and Mrs. Davidson husband and wife.

The whole scene was a somewhat solom mone, owing to the circumstances surrounding the lives of the couple, and tears sparkled from under the drooping eyelasines of the bride, as in the hush of the moment the solemn words were gaid. Good cheer immediately drove away the somber feeling occasioned by memories of what had gone before, but now to be forgotten forever, and the little reception that followed, with a service of refreshments by Mrs. Murphy and her daughters, was most delightful, happy and unconventional. The bride was clad in a handson the traveling habit of light-colored cloth, and the groom wore black, the little knot of blue gleaming on his lapel. They entered a carriage and were wilried away to their honeymoon.

Since Mr. and Mrs. Murphy took up their residence in Los Angeles many reconcilliations have been effected between estranged husbands and wives wilried away to their honeymoon.

awallowed it, to destroy incriminating evidence.

At any rate, Tune was overwhelmed with abundant proof of his first shady transaction, and appearances indicate that he was just attempting another deal in yellow frensied finance.

The old fellow was in a fair way to receive a heavy sentence, when Police Justice Austin, before whom he was given his first hearing, decided that a Chinese certificate is not valuable property—hence Tune was not a thief.

In direct opposition to this ruling was the decision of United States District Judge Wellborn, given about the same time, holding Chinese certificates as an article of considerable value, therefore making the purioining of one a prison offense. While of no consequence to a Caucasian, to a Mongolian a certificate is the title to liberty, the pursuit of happiness and the whitedevil's dollar, for without this innocent bit of paper he cannot remain in this country.

bit of paper he cannot remain in this country.

So, although old Tune was not liable to a criminal action, according to the verdict of Justice Austin, he was at once taken care of by the Federal officers, and with a company of others of his race was gathered into the County Jail to await investigation of his citizenship. His affair was quickly disposed of when it came to a hearing, and he was formally sentenced to be removed from this country. He made no plea for mercy.

Just one week ago the formal ten days fixed by law for possible revocation of the deportation sentence expired, and all that Tune remained in this county for was the will of the United States Marshal, whose time was so taken up that he could not accompany his heathen charges to San Francisco.

Yesterday, astonishing as a shower in a Southern California midsummer, Yesterdny, astonishing as a shower in a Southern California midsummer, came Tune's certificate of registration from San Francisco, sent by friends whose identity remains concealed and forever will remain concealed—fren who have worked desperately for weeks to save this friendless old creature to his humble little business, and who have doubtless spent much money to recover it. Their agents are Attorney Worley of San Francisco and Attorney B. M. Marble of San Francisco.

Tune does not know what they have done. He is still in the County Jail bemoaning the forced abandonment of his simple vocation, and counting the days until he will leave the country forever. This morning they will tell him.

work—he is no longer even influential in his circle.

Just how his plight was discovered, and how the mysterious ones have worked for his rescue is puzzing all the United States officials. So far as they have been able to discover Tune had not one intimate in Southern California. He boasts that he didn't, in a spirit of melancholy pride, and no one has ever been known to ask about him or even show interest enough to telephone concerning his case. Little publicity was given it in the papers, beyond a mere passing mention of his arrest at the police headquarters, and for the matter of deportation—all the papers have long since abandoned publication of this mass of Cantoness nomenclature.

Yet his tong was working, working lication of this mass of Cantonese nomenclature.

Yet his tong was working, working In a way more remarkable than has ever been exemplified in Southern California, and this certificate, in ail probability stolen years ago as Tune stole the other men's, was dug up somewhere in that creepy mase, the San Francisco Chimatown, under the threatening words of the hatchet men, Chimese secret service agents.

It may have cost a life to restore this dirty white document now in the possession of the United States attorney.

At any rate, Leung Tune is virtually free!

of the United States, both for pleasure and as a student. He is traveling on his own account, having been obliged to give up his work for a short time on account of his health. He has been in Los Angeles for a few days and expects to stay in California for some time.

M. Dupeney, after seeing how well located the French colony here is, did not feel so much surprise as at first.

"When I realised all the advantages they enjoy," he said, "your beautiful climate, and their prosperity and comfort, it is not, surprising that their number is increasing. I really did not know there were so many fine Frenchmen out of France. Of course, I think there is no country like France to live in, but then, I can better understand now how some people manage to live elsewhere."

Since he has been in America, M. Dupeney has been watching with considerable interest the workings of the Legislatures of different States.

"You cannot tell me that we in France are snore emotional than the people of this country, after what I have seen," he said. "In Illinois, I think it was, I hear a man speak, and he wave his arm and he bangs on his desk and he shouts and looks up at the ceilings—or was it the galleries—and another person he spring up in his seat and shouts "That's a lie, that's a lie" Mon dieu—if that happen at home there would be a due!

"I think my countrymen here have been doing good to your people in California. Here, more than anywhere else in the United States, you have begun to learn to take your pleasures gaily. When these people go out for a good time they laugh and they talk and amuse themselves. So many of the English-speaking peoples take their pleasures, well, like so many funerals. Of course, it is not so bad in America as in England; there a holiday is the saddest event that can happen."

ELECTION TO DECIDE FATE OF

Initiative petitions will be placed in circulation within the next ten days asking the Council to adopt an ordinance granting to a "benevolent corporation" the monopoly of the saloon business in Los Angeles .

So say the organizers of the corporation which seeks to regulate the iquor traffic of Los Angeles along the ines that have made Gothenburg famous.

Subscription lists have been in circulation for the last week and a goodly portion of the half million dollars which will be needed to apply Gothenburg tactics to the local liquor evil has diready been subscribed.
William Mead, Homer Laughlin and Dr. J. R. Haynes have recently held requent consultations with City Atcorney Mathews over the details of the proposed initiative ordinance. Many of the points have not yet been agreed upon, but the main features of the new system will include:

tal actually invested.

Permitting the sale only of beer and light wines in saleons in the mill and manufacturing districts.

Giving to city efficers the right to inspect the books of the corporation and to audit all accounts.

Guaranteeing the expenditure of all profits above $210,000 a year in public improvements.

profits above $210,000 a year in public improvements.

Pledging the purchase of the fixtures of the 200 saloons now in operation at a price to be adjusted later.

Providing for payment of a sum to the saloon owners for the "good will" of their business.

Drastic regulations concerning the operation of the corporation saloons.

"We have decided that the proper way to get this question of saloon reform before the people is to have our proposition prepared as an ordinance for submission to the voters of the city at a special election," said Mr. Mead, an enthusiastic advocate of the Gothenburg plan of saloon regulation, yesterday.

"We believe that if the voters of Los Angeles are given a chance to express themselves on this plan they will vote for the adoption by a majority of at least two to one.

"Of course we expect opposition from the saloon men, but we are ready to meet it. Our campaign shall be one of education only.

"Yesterday I was told by a stockholder of an eastern brewery that the distillers and brewers look upon this Gothenburg plan with more slarm than upon any movement for total prohibition. This man said that the eastern breweries and distillers would raise a fund of mammoth proportions to prevent the adoption of the Gothenburg system in an American city.

for this reform movement would not be influenced by money. A million-dollar sack would not buy enough votes to defeat the ordinance.

"We have figured that the city can reduce the sost of the special election by consolidating the election precincts, the same as is done at bond elections. In that way the cost of the election can be reduced to less than $4000.

"Naturally the local brawers will oppose the ordinance; they own most the saloon licenses. But I do not believe the saloon and brewery vote in the city is sufficient to defeat so rotable a reform.

"A couple of days age a local brewer talled me up and said that he wanted to take a big block of the stock. He pretended that it would be a great thing. When I explained to him that the corporation would assume all the risk of loss and could not possibly realize a greater profit than 6 per cent, on the money invested, he changed his mind and decided not to subscribe."

Mr. Mead said that the organizers of the benevolent, corporation expect to ask the directors of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association to submit the Gothenburg proposition to a referendum vote of the membershiu. This will be done as soon as the details of the proposed ordinance have been completed.

"I have talked with a number of officers and members of the association."

He couldn't find a public house; so she told him compassionately that he might keep the quarter for tobacco. He swore in court yesterday that he had a pocke; full of money at the time. "And you took this girl's quarter?" asked the Judge contemptuously. "Sure." said Williams easily, "I was in for anything I could get."

After they came back to town, the two young Lotharios were still whimpering for beer; so the girls took them down to the Eureka Cafe and fed them a couple of drinks each.

The start was auspicious enough; everything was in readiness hours before the minute set, and promptly on time the journey commenced, not to stop, barring accident, until the brakes set on Market street in San Francisco some forty-odd hours from the middle of last night-early Friday afternoon. Whitman will drive until tired, when Hamlin will take the car, and the pair will then alternate as suits their convenience. The Franklin people are known to automobile men as leaders in the use of the air-cooled principle, and this year are planning an extensive campaign against records all over the country. Whitman chose the Calabasas-Conejo road to Ventura and figured on making that control in five hours. He expects to eat breakfast in Santa Barbara at 8 o'clock, and will then have covered, roughly. 110 miles of his journey. From Santa Barbara to San Luis Obispo, 117 miles, is the next stage, and the pair hope to be in Paso Robles by mightfall today. They will run through the night via Bradley, Jolon, King City, to Salinas, thence by San Juan, Gilroy and San José into San Francisco. A sealed box, which will be used as a receptacle for envelopes bearing the time of passing the various controls, will be carried. that the unscrupulous leaders of or-ganized labor are the worst enemies of those whom they profess to repre-sent. Without doubt, the probing about to be undertaken in Chicago will reveal anew the truth of this position. The fault lies principally with the illadvised men who permit their judgment to be perverted by the specious pleas of these so-called "leaders," who assume to represent labor only that they may prey upon it.

So long as the members of unions refuse to think for themselves, and follow blindly the dictation of dishonest and unscrupulous leaders, so long must they expect to be misrep-resented, duped, robbed and otherwise imposed upon. Men who relinquish their own initiative and sign away when they suffer the natural and inevitable consequences of their foolishwho weakly submit to extortion, they will learn in good time, perhaps, that by so doing they only encourage a crime which grows by what it feeds on, and can be suppressed only by vig-orous, manly, straightforward opposition and defiance.

Gothite, Wolframite, Tin.
GOLDFIELD (Nev.) May 25, 1905.—
[To the Editor of The Times:] I send you today in small tin box samples said to be "tin ore." I am not a chemist and cannot find the values of such. The ore is from near Patterson's Peak, in the southern part of this State. Will you please describe the ores and give me some facts on tin orcs, with test me some facts on tin orcs, with test for the metal. Yours truly, A. W. R.

for the metal. Yours truly,

Answer: Two samples received, One of them, at sight, might be taken as wood-tin, but if lacks the laster. This specimen is of an iron (brown-black) color, and resemble: a flattened kidney. By using the file thereon a yellow-brown powder is obtained. The specimen, broken, shows a brown-yellow band in center, which yellow is limonite (hydrated iron oxide.) The hardness of this sample is 4.5. Brittle. Structure, somewhat reniform. Fracture, hackly, Density, 4.1. B.B., infusible. Such ore is known as "Gothite" in mineralogy, and in formula one of the iron hydroxides.

Your second sample has a sub-metallic luster and is black in color, streak black-brown; hardness 5.1: of short, columnar habit; monocilinic in crystallization, massive in structure. Density 7.2. B.B., fuses to a magnetic button. The specimen is a good grade of Wolframite (ungstate of iron and manganese,) and resembles that from near Osceola, Nev.

Wolframite and hubnerite (the latter being a manganese ungstate) are not so easily affected by acids as Wolframite and hubnerite (the latter being a manganese tungstate) are not so easily affected by acids as scheelite (calcium tungstate;) the latter in hydrochloric acid, with slight boiling, gives the yellow powder known as tungstic acid. It is well to use aqua-regia (a mixture of one fluid ounce of nitric acid with two or three fluid ounces of hydrochloric acid) on tungstates, other than scheelite, and as follows: Powder the mineral fine: place a little of it in a small porcelain evaporating dish, cover the powder with aqua regia and let the mixture boil slowly for an hour and a half; if, by this treatment, yellow tungsten trioxide separates out (tungstic acid) you will know that you probably have a tungstate ore; positively so, if the yellow powder is soluble in aqueous ammonia; and further, tungstic acid in not soluble in dilute hydrochloric acid.

with quartz, and when colored green it is due to chlorite. Ores of tin are not found with limestone. "Tin grantite" always has quantities of white mica intermixed. Greisen (a granular quartz, coarse-grained, mixed with such mica) is the country rock in which ores of tin are found, and such rock should be prospected carefully. Associated mineral will be obtained also, such as mica, topaz, fluorite, apatite, tourmaline, Wolframite, mispickel, hubnerite, molybdenite, garnet, beryl, sapphire, and so forth.

TESTS FOR TIN.

Gouge a little of the charcoal, so as to permit placing in a small hollow, a little of the powdered ore mixed with carbonate of soda, to which add a very over the ore and flux; keep all in fusion for five minutes. Allow the mass to cool, then with a knife point scrape out the fluxed mass into a small mortar, pulverize contents and concentrate with small pan. If tin be in the ores you will find in your concentrate the metal, in small globular and flattened shapes. It is well to advise that a sulphide of tin (tin pyrite) often mistaken for an ore of copper, known as "bell metal ore" and carrying as high as 30 per cent tin, will be occasionally found. In all probability unknown true ores of tin will in the near future be found therewith. It is well to describe this ore and give test for the metal therein, as follows: Stannite (Zinnkies) of a gray-steel color in fresh fracture, streak black, 3.5 to 3.7 in hardness. Brittle; density 4.2 to 4.6; crystallization isometric and massive in structure. Weathers bronze-yellow.
B. B., fuses to a non-malleable button, Powdered, and natric acid used as a solvent, sulphur and stannic oxide (dioxide of tin) separates out. The nitric solvent, sulphur and stannic oxide (di oxide of tin) separates out. The nitri acid solution of this ore gives a blu

LOS ANGELES, May 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] No. 1.—Croppings. No. 2.—Taken from twenty-five feet deep. I would like to know whether there is any trace of tin, nickel or copper in the samples?

Yours truly,

ANSWER: Five of your samples are marked "No. 1," and are remarkably good ores for "croppings," provided you have quantity. One of the five shows copper, from and bismuthinite. The second white mica with probably manganese phosphates. Third is hematite. Fourth, like one, with greater sp. gr. Five is a radiated hornblende. No. 2, at twenty-five feet depth, comprises three samples. One thereof is a good concentrating sulphide ore (from, arsenic and copper.) The second is quarts with iron oxide and traces only of tin. The third is quartax with sulphides and rose coloration. All of these ores show up remarkably well, and should be further referred to your analyst, in quantity, for determination of nickel and cobalt values, if any.

ATHLETICS FOR WOMEN.

The proud record of the local college in basket2all this season, when the five co-eds handily won the champion-hip of the Woman's Southern California Basketball League, has directed the attention of the trustees to the need of added facilities for college sport among the women, and this year instead of two teams, several quintettes will be organised, and handball and tennis will two teams, several quintettes will ocorganized, and handball and tennis will be revived among the gentler sex.

While there are still those who strenuously object to the part taken by 'varsity women in local sports, the majority of the patrons of the school are anxious to have the authorities branch out in other lines of endeavor, and more latitude for the young ladies is urged by parents.

Athletics will not be the only branch of activity over which the new dean will have supervision, as the original intention of the appointment is that Mrs. Best will instill into the ranks of the women a desire for greater literary research and will organize the local Y.W.C.A. and other societies of the colinge for greater work in the English branches.

President W. C. Greene of the Greene Consolidated Copper Company has issued a circular letter to the stock-holders in which he shows that the condition of the company is all that can be desired and that the outlook for the future is better than ever.

The twelfth dividend was ordered by the directors on the 3rd inst. The amount was $345,600, at the rate of 40 with the high recommendations as to their ability to teach people how to sing Sunday-school music.

As there is to be no charge for the instruction, the question of its scope and nature is the only one of importance to those who expect to induce children to attend the institute. It was first given out that there would be a small registration fee charged all who entered the classes, but, if that was ever the intention, it has now been set aside, as the committee says in a letter yesterday mailed to all the superintendents in the city: "Announce that any who desire to attend will be welcome, and that there will be no expense whatever attached to the institute work. Also select from the singers in your school, above 15 years of age, a number equal to 5 per cent. of your enrollment for 1994, notifying them to be ready for the first session, which will be held on June 19."

Mosers. Tullar and Meredith began their work in Pasadema last week, where the institutes are held Monday and Thursday evenings. The evenings selected for the holding of the institutes in this city, as well as the places at which they will be held, will be announced later. It is probable that Immanuel Presbyterian Church and the First Methodist Church will be selected and Tuesday and Friday evenings.

At the close of the institutes, which will continue for three weeks, two concerts will be held, one given by the smaller children in the afternoon, and the other by the singers over 15 years of age, in the evening.

Thos.B.Clark. THE "MAGIC CITY"

LAS VEGAS.

What Las Vegas in the desert is today in its drapery of dust and its sweat of endeavor, with its mansions of alry canvas, white under the heat of the middlay sum, and ghostly white under the cool gleam of the midnight stars, that Salt Lake City was less than sixty years ago—that also Denver was less than fifty years' ago—that also Boise, now one of the little jewel cities of the West in the midst of far-stretching orchards, embowered in roses and vines, the beautiful garden spot of Idaho, was in 1862, the summer when the richest placers ever discovered in the United States were found in the mountains near by—that also Phoenix by the Rio Gila was in 1868 or thereabouts when a handful of miners with their families, weary of the mountains and the drouth, came down to the plains and planted the settlement by the Gila, which they said they would make, and which they said they would make, and which they have made, the capital and metropolis of Arizons.

With such examples of great and swift accomplishment before our minds, the hopes of this magic city of Las Vegas so loudly touted today seem for from groundless. They are in truth better grounded than were the hopes of any of the cities named at the day of their planting.—Fitz Mac, in Denver Post, June 5, 1905.

It was because the local-option question was not a general issue throughout the county that the liquor interests were caught napping. The other ownships of the county were in ignorance of the fact that Daggett voters were to decide that issue. The Dagget voters were to decide that issue. The Dagget voters who might favor the saloon increase, had their attention diverted by warm supervisorial concest, and thile all of them voted straight on the siter issue, the local-option question has overlocked entirely.

This was the trap cleverly laid by the Anti-Saloon League, which had so well laid its plans that on election day very voter favorable to suppressing the saloon cast a vote for that issue, and local option carried over 2 to 1 and the liquor men realized the importance of the local-option question to mem, they could have defeated the unit-Saloon League 6 to 1.

Thursday, June 15

These lots contain one and one-quarter acres, are located convenient to business center and command a magnificent view of the city, the ocean and the fertile celery lands lying in the vicinity of Huntington Beach. Each lot has a frontage on three streets and contains over ten city lots. Streets will be graded and water piped through the property.

You can make no better or safer investment than in this property at prices we will offer it. We made a similar statement three weeks ago when we placed the Vista del Mar Tract on the market. That the public, after investigating the property and prices, agreed with us is evident from the fact that in fifteen days we sold over six hundred lots. Remember the date—Thursday, June 15.

Why Horseshoe Paint Costs Less-Than Ordinary Paint

over more than 20 aquare feet two coats.
So divide the cost per gallon ($1.75) by the amount of surface each gallon will cover (200 eq. ft.) and the result proves that lead and oil paint costs you over 27 cents per 100 square feet of painted surface.

Each gallon of ordinary adulterated readymized paint, will not cover more than 200 square feet two coats because the adulterants retard its spreading capacity.

Divide the cost per jailon ($1.50) by the amount of surface each gallon will cover (200 sq. ft.) and the result proves that ordinary ready-mixed paint costs you 75 cents per 100 square feet of painted surface.

Now, each gallon of two coats and see the cost per 100 square feet of painted surface.
